Meet the Author

Theresa E. Cocci

Theresa Cocci's appreciation for telling stories began early in her teaching career. Capturing the interest of her students through story and song, she embraced a desire to encourage and appreciate a love for literacy. Currently she works as a music specialist and also writes for educational websites: https://www.musicconstructed.com and Teaching with Orff: https://teachingwithorff.com

Henry the Hungry Hound

Meet Harry, a downhearted dog, who is saddened by the stares of others, who only see his horrible hair. When Miss Maggie knits him a sweater to hide his hair, Harry quickly gains confidence. But when disaster strikes and his hair is once again revealed, Harry wonders if others will ever see him for what he's like on the inside—not the outside.
